

CAMPAIGN TO END LONELINESS – Email response

RESPONSE:TV LICENCES

Laura Alcock-Ferguson, Executive Director of the Campaign to End Loneliness said: “Television provides a great comfort for many lonely older people. It can give structure and routine and make you feel as though you are part of something. The prospect of that being taken away could have a devastating impact on older people experiencing loneliness.”