

Bug bingo

So now you know a little bit more about how fascinating they really are, see how many bugs you can identify in your patch.

Butterflies – There are 56 species of butterfly in the UK and all have a fascinating life cycle – from caterpillar to butterfly.

Seen

Centipedes – Centipedes are nocturnal and love the dark, so you can find them by lifting up stones or logs or digging in the ground.

Seen

Ants – Some species of ant are vegetarian, some are carnivorous and others eat both meat and vegetation.

Seen

Bees – There are many different types of bee including bumblebees, honeybees and solitary bees.

Seen

Ladybirds – There are 46 different types of ladybird in the UK, usually seen March to October.

Seen

Snails – Found all over the UK, snails carry a hard shell on their back and move along on one long, slimy foot.

Bingo!