Alice

Hello and welcome to 6 Minute English. I'm Alice...

Neil

... and I'm Neil. Hello.

Alice

Hello, Neil. You went to university, didn't you?

Neil

Yes. University – the best days of my life. I made fantastic friends, went to great parties...

Alice

Did some work?

Neil

Well, yeah, I did some work, but probably not enough.

Alice

Well, the subject of today's show is student mental health. So, Neil, do you think you're looking back at your university days through rose-tinted spectacles? And that means looking at a situation as being better than it really was.

Neil

I did feel out of my comfort zone when I arrived. Yes, everyone seemed to know everyone... knew where to go.

Alice

Yes, well, being out of your comfort zone means being in a situation that you aren't familiar with and which makes you feel nervous. Did you talk to anyone about your feelings, Neil? Did you get any counselling? And that means professional help with personal or psychological problems.

Neil

What? No, not me. I'm one of those men who isn't good at talking about their feelings, Alice. I just felt a bit homesick that's all – I missed my friends and family. But let's move on, shall we! Why don't you ask me today's quiz question?

Alice

Alright then. So here it is: In a survey of students at Imperial College London, how many students said they suffered from high levels of stress or a mental health condition during their time at college? Was it...

- a) 1 out of 4?
- b) 2 out of 4?
- or c) 3 out of 4?

Neil

Well, I'm going to go for c) 3 out of 4 because I do think that university life can be more stressful than people realize.

Alice

Yes. And stress means pressure or worry caused by a difficult situation. OK, we'll find out if you're right or wrong later on. Now in the UK, there has been a rise in students using counselling services.

Neil

Why's that, Alice?

Alice

Well, let's listen to Kirsty, a student at Exeter University, talking about why she has had problems. And here's a question for you while you listen: Did she enjoy her first days in college?

INSERT

Kirsty McMurrin, student at Exeter University

No. The thing is... it... is a real balancing act. When I first got to university I don't think I'd really realized that I'd forgotten how to make friends you know, I'd been with the same school friends for seven years, and so I was trying to balance you know social success with academic success whilst learning how to look after myself at quite a young age. And I think that's the experience of a lot of young people. And people really struggle with it.

Neil

What's a balancing act, Alice?

Alice

It's where you try to give your attention to two or more things at the same time. So here, Kirsty is trying to balance making new friends with doing her academic work and learning to look after herself.

Neil

What does Kirsty mean when she says she's learning to look after herself?

Alice

Well, to look after someone means to protect or take care of someone – and in this case, Kirsty's learning to take care of herself – for example doing her own shopping and cooking.

Neil

OK, let's listen to Dr Ruth Caleb of the counselling service at Brunel University in London talking about what practical stuff students could learn before leaving for university that might make life easier for them.

INSERT

Dr Ruth Caleb, Head of the counselling service at Brunel University, London

Certain things that I think it would be very very helpful for students to have put in place are an ability to do the practical things of life – to do the washing, to do the cleaning and so on – being able to cook. Budgeting is extremely important in university life. And also spending time on your own comfortably.

Neil

Yes, that's excellent advice. I couldn't boil an egg when I arrived at uni.

Alice

Oh, really? Can you do it now, Neil?

Neil

Just about, just about.

Alice

Yeah? Great. And what about budgeting? This means planning how much money you have and how you will spend it.

Neil

I'm still pretty bad at that. However, I am very good at spending time on my own comfortably.

Alice

Yes, I can believe that – feet up, watching TV with a takeaway.

Neil

Takeaway, of course a takeaway cause I can't cook anything...

Alice

No.

Neil

... not even an egg. You know me so well. So how about the answer to today's quiz question, Alice?

Alice

Alright then. I asked: In a survey of students at Imperial College London, how many said they suffered from high levels of stress or a mental health condition during their time at college? Was it...

- a) 1 out of 4?
- b) 2 out of 4?
- or c) 3 out of 4?

Neil

And I said c) 3 out of 4.

Alice

Yes. And you are correct – well done, Neil! The survey, completed by over a thousand students, also found that almost 70% of those that suffer from stress do so at least once a week, and 9% of students feel stressed constantly. Stressed means anxious and worried.

Neil

Well, I feel anxious just thinking about all that stress. Can we hear today's words again?

Alice

We certainly can. They are:
through rose-tinted spectacles
out of your comfort zone counselling homesick stress balancing act
look after yourself
budgeting stressed

Neil
