
BBC LEARNING ENGLISH

News Report

Taylor Swift forces Apple music change

The technology giant Apple has agreed to pay musicians for songs played on its new music streaming service after singer Taylor Swift threatened to boycott it over the issue.

She condemned Apple's decision not to pay artists during a three-month free trial period it's offering its customers.

Vocabulary

streaming

listening or watching music or video directly from the internet without downloading

boycott

refuse to buy something from an organisation because you disagree with it condemned

strongly criticised (something)

artists

(here) musicians and singers

trial period

amount of time when something is tested

Choose the correct summary

- a) Taylor Swift is going to pay technology company Apple for using her music for a three-month trial period.
- b) Technology company Apple has agreed to pay musicians for a trial period for songs that customers download.
- c) Technology company Apple is going to pay artists for their music during a three-month trial period.

Answer

- c) Technology company, Apple is going to pay artists for their music during a three-month trial period.

To hear this bulletin, visit <http://bbc.in/IF1o8GI>