

PARTY – Part 2

to put on, to get something in, to eat up, to drink up

Part 2 conversation:

- VICKI: Hey Matt. Why don't you put another CD on so we can dance a bit more?
- MATT: OK. I've just bought a new party CD. I'll put that on now!
- VICKI: mmmm – this party food is delicious. But did you get enough food in for all of your guests?
- MATT: Oh yes, I went shopping yesterday and bought lots of food for the party. Eat up! There's plenty more....
- VICKI: Thanks! It's great - I'll have no problem eating this food up – it's lovely!
- MATT: And if you drink up, I'll go and make you another cocktail!
- VICKI: You're a great host Matt. Hang on then and I'll finish it.

Part 2 examples:

1. to put on. I'm having a quiet night at home tonight - I'm going to put on a DVD on and watch a film.
2. to get something in. My little niece and nephew are coming round tomorrow, so I'm getting in lots of crisps and sweets to keep them happy!
3. to eat up. Now you can have some ice-cream, but only if you eat up your pasta first.
3. to drink up. We'll have to drink up - the bar's closing in a minute.
