ANSWERS:

1. My sister__________, whereas I’m much more like my dad.
   a) look likes my mum – The first word needs to be in a different form. All the other words are correct.
   b) looks as if my mum – ‘Looks as if’ is followed by a clause, not a noun (‘my mum’).
   c) looks are though my mum – ‘Looks as though’ is followed by a clause, not a noun (‘my mum’).
   d) looks like my mum – If you look like someone, you resemble them or you have similar features to them.

2. __________ that guy over there. Isn’t he your old boyfriend?
   a) Watch out – If you tell someone to ‘Watch out!’ you are warning them about some kind of imminent danger (something dangerous that’s about to happen).
   b) Watch at – Although you can use the preposition ‘at’ with the verb ‘look’, you don’t use it with the verb ‘watch’.
   c) Look like – If you look like someone, you resemble them or you have similar features to them.
      The correct answer here means ‘see’ or ‘observe’.
   d) Look at – This is the correct answer. It means ‘see’ or ‘observe’.

3. Those clouds are really dark. It __________.
   a) looks as though it’s going to rain – ‘It looks as though + clause’ (or ‘It looks as if’ + clause) means ‘it’s true or possible’.
   b) looks as though to rain – After ‘It looks as though’ (or ‘It looks as if’), you need a clause, not an infinitive (to rain).
   c) look as though going to rain – After ‘It looks as though’ (or ‘It looks as if’), you need a clause and ‘going to rain’ isn’t a full clause.
   d) looks like as though going to rain – You’ve mixed up two expressions here – ‘it looks like’ and ‘it looks as though’. And after ‘It looks as though’ (or ‘It looks as if’), you need a clause and ‘going to rain’ isn’t a full clause.
4. My friend looks just like Elvis Presley. He makes quite a lot of money working as an Elvis ________, going to parties and pretending to be The King.

a) alike-look – This word doesn't exist in English. You need another one to describe someone who looks similar to someone else.

b) looks like – My friend looks like Elvis, but for the correct answer you need a noun to describe someone who looks similar to someone else.

c) look-alike – This noun describes someone who looks similar to someone else.

d) look liking – This expression doesn't exist in English. Here, you need a noun to describe someone who looks similar to someone else.

5. Frank ________ when they announced that he’d won the prize.

a) looked as if surprised – If something 'looks as if', it is possible or true (and the pattern is 'it looks as if' + clause). Here, the correct answer means that Frank appeared surprised.

b) looked liked surprised – The pattern after 'look like' is + noun, not + adjective. Here, the correct answer uses 'surprised', to mean that Frank appeared surprised.

c) looked surprised – This is the correct expression which means that Frank appeared surprised.

d) none of the above – One of these options is correct.

6. After her first Harry Potter book was published, J.K. Rowling ________ and now she's one of the best known writers in the world.

a) always looked back – The second and third words are correct but the first one isn't.

b) never looked back – This means she continued to be successful after doing well in it the first time.

c) always looked forward – The middle word is correct but the first and last ones aren't.

d) never looked forward – The first two words are correct but the last one isn't.
