

Bournemouth local lingo

---

Answer to quiz

'I 'llow' means 'I think' or 'I expect' there is – so Mary thought that there probably was some tea left in the pot.

Transcript

Mary:

When I was working in Foots, erm, Peter Amey said to me: "Is there any more tea in the pot, Mary?" And I said: "I 'llow'." And he said: "I haven't heard that for years!" (laughs) 'I 'llow there is!'

So I mean, it slipped out, you know...

Interviewer:

So it's 'I 'llow'?"

Mary:

I 'llow, I 'llow there is – I expect there is or I allow there is.

Interviewer:

So you say 'I 'llow...'

Mary:

I mean I think, I think... I 'llow there is.
