EXT. STREET. HOUSING ESTATE. LEEDS. DAY.

August; rippling heat rising over Tarmac.

Just coming into view-

LEAH’S[11 yrs] POV, gangly legs furiously peddling a too small pink bike, steady on the approach.

INT. CHIP SHOP. NR HOUSING ESTATE. LEEDS. DAY.

The scoop and fold of fish and chips in paper. Several brawny MEN, salting chips, tossing fish as they serve a line of CUSTOMERS.

And’s LEAH’s in, scooping up a handful of ketchup sachets, pushing past disgruntled CUSTOMERS to get to the front of the queue. Tipping LEAH a nod, a thin whippet like MAN, reaches for another piece of paper-

MAN
You’re getting too big for that bike-

LEAH up on tiptoes, nose pressed close to her hands, peering over the top of the counter, watching as he piles a mountain of fish and chips.

LEAH
No vinegar...no vinegar...

The MAN smirks, mock pouring more malt vinegar all over her chips until-

He slides her the fat roll of fish and chips, in a swift exchange, as money passes hands-

MAN
Tell Stevie-

LEAH, already gone. The MAN pockets the small bag of grass LEAH has newly delivered before moving onto the next CUSTOMER.

Through the window, the distant figure of LEAH peddling away.

EXT. COURTYARD. ESTATE. LEEDS. DAY.

A small BOY in underpants running across a scrubby patch of grass, dodging a spray of water from a makeshift hose-

LEAH swerves past, grabbing the hose in passing, and squirting it at the rag bag gang of KIDS, cooling off in the sun.

BOY
(calling after)
You’re dead.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008

EXT. STREET. ESTATE. LEEDS. DAY.

LEAH screeches to a halt, taking in-
Bedding dropped from a second floor window.
Across the street, SONYA [early 40’s] LEAH’s grandma, scoops up duvet and pillows, chucking it into the back of a beaten up hire van.
LEAH wheels her bike, steadily towards her. A manky dog loitering close by.

SONYA
Leah, get that dog.

LEAH
I’m in the middle of my homework.

From above-

DEBBIE OOV
(calling down)
Mum-
SONYA looks up to see-
DEBBIE[late 20’s], LEAH’s mum, hanging out of the kitchen window.

DEBBIE
He wants tea at the table.
SONYA dumps the mound of duvet on the grass, hurrying to pull a kitchen chair out of the back of the van.

SONYA
(calling back)
Fuck...fuck...fuck...
LEAH running to try and catch the dog as it jaywalks across a busy road. LEAH, lassoes her belt around the dog’s neck, weaving her way back.
On LEAH disgruntled heading towards a grimy stairwell.

STEVIE
That dog needs water.

The drip of saliva as LEAH turns to lead the dog through into the kitchen. STEVIE raises his hand stopping her, LEAH slides a twenty pound note in his hand.

STEVIE (cont’d)
(hushed aside)
Good girl.

On LEAH, scooping up an exercise book and pencil case lying on the sofa close by, as she heads out.

INT. KITCHEN. FLAT. ESTATE. LEEDS. DAY.

LEAH takes in the near bare kitchen as DEBBIE heaves a kitchen chair back into place, sliding it under a peeling Formica table. LEAH looks on, quietly considering-

LEAH
He’ll notice the clock.

DEBBIE eyes the dusty mark on the wall, where once a clock hung-

LEAH, unwraps the fish and chips, reaching over for a plate. Opening a drawer, she searches for the knives and forks, but they have also gone.

STEVIE
(on the approach)
Deb, you been messing with Sky plus?

DEBBIE swings around, just as the last kitchen chair is slid into place, handing LEAH a plate, and a handful of knives and forks as she does.

DEBBIE
I don’t touch the remote.

LEAH slides the plate of fish and chips onto the plate, powerless as STEVIE swipes the whole lot, sliding it down on the table in front of him.

ADAM
(aka Donkey/Shriek)
Look at my eye twitchin’.

ADAM hanging on the door handle, swings back and forth, eyeing the kitchen, unsettled by what is going on-

STEVIE
(swiping ADAM)
Will you stop that?

STEVIE, gait swaying slightly, sinks down on a seat. DEBBIE slides him across the ketchup sachets.

STEVIE (cont’d)
You’ll have the handle off.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
ADAM scooping up the X box controls, clocking SONYA just visible through in the sitting room, unplugging the stereo.

(aka Homer Simpson)
Marge, this is the darkest day in the history of Springfield.

STEVIE cramming a chip into his mouth—

STEVIE
(eating a chip/ to LEAH)
Where’s the fucking vinegar?

LEAH ignores him, focused on giving the dog a drink, from an old plastic ice cream tub.

CASEY
Dad...dad—

CASEY[7yrs] enters dripping wet, teeth chattering, in her bathing costume, hopping from foot to foot with excitement—

DEBBIE
(sharp)
Give him a break, Casey.

Reaching for a six pack of beer, DEBBIE darts a look to ADAM and LEAH, urging them to ease themselves out—

CASEY
Nana’s—

Flipping the ring pull, DEBBIE slides it in front of STEVIE, depositing the rest of the six pack on the counter for him.

DEBBIE
(cutting in)
...coming over next week. You’re going blue.

DEBBIE ushers CASEY out before she can speak. ADAM, following CASEY with growing fury. LEAH surreptitiously picking up a plastic school ruler as she goes, left on the kitchen counter.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
Sooner you get in that bath—

STEVIE blearily looks up from his fish and chips, eyeing the empty patch on the wall where the clock once was—

STEVIE
It’s only—

The clock has gone. STEVIE’s suspicion, sobering until—

STEVIE (cont’d)
(with growing realisation)
Debbie.

The empty silence.

SONYA, the engine already running, shouting out of her window—

SONYA
(shouting to Debbie)

DEBBIE
Move, mother.

DEBBIE, hurling the TV into the back of the van, as ADAM and CASEY scrabble into the back next to SONYA. DEBBIE and LEAH close behind, leaping into the front cab

SONYA
I’m still on me friggin’ ban.

STEVIE, steady on the approach, making their minds up for them. SONYA hard down on the accelerator, the van lurching into speed.

STEVIE
(angry shouting)
It’s my fucking TV-

STEVIE racing to catch up, hurling bricks and beer bottles what ever he can find at the van.

DEBBIE
(shouting after)
Yeah, and who pays off the catalogue?
(to SONYA)
Put your fucking foot down.

STEVIE, racing neck and neck with DEBBIE snatching at the door, trying to wrestle it open.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
Fuck..fuck..fuck...

STEVIE
You stupid fucking bitch...
Where you fucking going?

DEBBIE
(calling back)
As far away as fuck from here.

The van picks up speed, leaving a puce humiliated STEVIE standing in the middle of the road helpless, surrounded by a gang of dripping KIDS, cheering.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
DEBBIE (cont’d)
You’ve a chip wrapper stuck to your arse.

LEAH face pressed against the back window of the van, looking back at all they’ve left behind, clocking her bike.

LEAH resigned sinks back in her seat, looking back at—

Walkways strung with washing. A FAT WOMAN in a bikini sitting in a deckchair, peering over her balcony. KIDS soaking, hose in hand, falling back into their game.

Loud pulsing music—

The rippling sun, just beginning to set—

The trawl of rush hour traffic. The van just pulling out of Leeds, joining the motorway.

LEAH, nose pressed to the glass, wedged up next to DEBBIE and SONYA, DEBBIE turns a map in her hand, clearly already lost—

LEAH
(eyeing map)
Do you know where we’re even going cause you’re in Cardiff?

DEBBIE drawing on the cigarette, passing it back to SONYA via LEAH—

SONYA
We’ve not been five miles out of Leeds.

DEBBIE giving up, shoving the map in LEAH’s lap—

DEBBIE
That way.

SONYA
Which lane? Which lane?

DEBBIE
Middle...Middle..

SONYA pulls out narrowly missing an overtaking car. A screech of horns

DEBBIE (cont’d)
Stevie Wonder could drive better..

SONYA
Piss off or your on the hard shoulder.

DEBBIE smiles, eyeing SONYA’s glasses—

On LEAH looking up from her homework, staring out at the now silent street, all taking in the silence.

ADAM
(aka Mr Burns/Simpsons)
Release the hounds!

DEBBIE clips ADAM around the ear, catching SONYA’s eye, on the verge of some comment-

DEBBIE
Don’t.

SONYA
What? What?

DEBBIE
Don’t fucking say it.

SONYA smiles, barely containing her dry delight as DEBBIE determinedly turns starts to unload their furniture, handing chairs, and suitcases to her waiting children.

LEAH
Where is everyone?

On LEAH her gaze looking along the deserted street.

DEBBIE
Out.

LEAH deliberately ignoring her-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
LEAH reluctantly gets out of the van, SONYA already dragging bedding and bags towards the front door. CASEY already heading inside.

A distant sound of an Imam, voice reverberating on a tannoy, just audible, catching on the breeze.

CASEY leans her head out of the top bedroom window—

CASEY
(shouting down)
It’s got bunk beds.

Through the fence, LEAH spies a NEIGHBOUR peering out of the window, in hijab.

DEBBIE
Go to bed.

ADAM
We’ve not had any tea.

DEBBIE
Your nanna’s got some crisps.
ADAM and CASEY thundering downstairs. DEBBIE looks up, clocks LEAH in the bedroom clearing herself a space.

LEAH
There’s only two bedrooms.

DEBBIE
You’ll have to share with me then.

LEAH reluctantly moves in sinking down onto the mattress.

LEAH
You’ll be back by the end of the week.

No.

DEBBIE Yeah.

LEAH
I mean it.

DEBBIE
You said that last time.

LEAH slams the duvet over her head-

DEBBIE
I’ll call the council Monday. Leah?
(silence)
Get your filthy shoes off, I don’t want your grit in the bed.

LEAH ignores her. DEBBIE hesitates flicks the lights off.

LEAH leans over, slamming the door shut on ADAM, standing eating a packet of crisps.

LEAH
(almost to herself)
Freak.

LEAH lies in bed, staring at the shadows dancing across the wall. LEAH half reaches a hand up, as if trying to catch a shadow. Conversation drifting up from the yard below

SONYA OOV
Adam’ll need his ritalin.

DEBBIE OOV
I stopped putting it on his cereal months ago.

SONYA, reaches for the bottle of vodka, resting on the windowsill, topping up her can of coke amazed as DEBBIE throws her drink in the plastic flower pot.

DEBBIE
No..No more booze. Spliff. I don’t want any of it.

DEBBIE rifles in her bag, dumping the last of a bag of hash, and the bottle of vodka into the wheely bin.

SONYA
(beat)
How much money have you got?

DEBBIE
Tenner to last me to the end of the month.

SONYA
We could have jumped the leccy box before we left.

DEBBIE and SONYA absently watching the street, busier now, a trail of PEOPLE returning from the mosque.

DEBBIE
No..Adam always punctures the lilo and I end up in with you, your manky cat and both girls top to tail.
(seeing look)
I’m not going back to him.
The hum of DEBBIE’s mobile phone, vibrating somewhere, sobering them both, DEBBIE reaches for her fags, once more letting it ring until-

The phone stops ringing. Silence.

SONYA
Elaine’s just got Deal or No Deal on her phone ring.

DEBBIE smokes her cigarette with visible relief-

DEBBIE
I need you to pick up my benefit cheque.

DEBBIE slides a set of keys to STEVIE’s flat across to her.

SONYA
Its a bus and a train and a bus to here.

DEBBIE

DEBBIE hesitates, clocking the label on the milk, looking up to see, ABDULLAH with FATIMA and ABDULLAH’s MOTHER[60’s] just visible through the window in their yard, next door.

DEBBIE scoops up the carton, sliding it back through the fence, before turning and heading back upstairs, still in her nightie-

ABDULLAH ushers the others back inside, taking the carton of milk, eyeing the family suspiciously. YASMIN hanging back, peering through the fence.

LEAH
That your dad?
(YASMIN nods)
What’d he have for breakfast, your mum?

LEAH eyes straying over MARIANNE, quietly scrutinising her face.

MARIANNE
Their last school mentions-

DEBBIE
Mostly booze, a little weed. I don’t know why that’s down.

The briefest sting of embarrassment flickers across LEAH’s face-

MARIANNE
Perhaps we might be better, Mrs McNeil talking about this-

DEBBIE
You’re alright.
(eyeing LEAH)
Leah doesn’t miss anything. Gobby so you’ll have to shut her up but she likes school. Art. She had her story read out in assembly.

MARIANNE hesitates, momentarily thrown by the DEBBIE’s quiet disregard.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
You’ve only got to take them for a few days. Just til they rehouse us.

MARIANNE
They told you we’re 100% Muslim-

DEBBIE

REHAN
Orange and Indigo class you’re doing raffle tickets today...12 o’clock in middle hall for anyone making salat.

CASEY
Why are they making salad.

The sound of sniggering travelling down the row, CASEY’s words travelling like Chinese whispers. LEAH leans forward, clocking YASMIN, sharing in the joke.

KIDS
Sir...Sir...Story..

REHAN smiles, his gaze grazes over the faces, playfully conceding.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
REHAN
In the story of Muhammad’s night journey and ascent to heaven-
(quietening)
Ssh...Sshh. The angel Gabriel acted as Muhammad’s guide. Eventually Gabriel could go no further up through the heavens and Muhammad had to continue alone on his journey from Mecca to Jerusalem. What does this tell us?

LEAH suddenly overwhelmed with a growing fury, stands up, making to go-

REHAN (cont’d)
It tells us that the prophet, Peace Be Unto Him, gave us even higher potential than angels. (looking to LEAH)
It tells us Muhammad-

LEAH suddenly caught out, hovering between sitting back down or running out of the room.

LEAH
...was soft for following Gabriel in the first place. Next time he should of taken the bus.

REHAN, caught out, stifles a smile, watching LEAH brazenly walking out, KIDS already craning to see.

REHAN (to MALIK)
You sit down.

We’ve been to church once for Nana’s funeral.

LEAH Twice.
(ignoring/as reads)
...collect all the animals-

ADAM
Second time you robbed the alter plate.

LEAH
They left it by the door.

CASEY
I want to go back in. It was better than this-

CASEY goes to speak, but LEAH’s look says it all. CASEY flicks through the book on Noah.

ADAM
This is boring.

LEAH joins ADAM, peering out of the door watching an excited group of children running down the corridor.

LEAH
You want to end up wearing a dress and growing a beard?

ADAM
I’m nine.

LEAH
They’ll give you hormones.

On LEAH looking up, clocking a passing TEACHER. LEAH ducks. LEAH pulls ADAM down.

ADAM
I want to go home. I hate this place.

LEAH
Shut up and sit down.

LEAH punches him hard in the leg. ADAM softly cries.

The WHITE FEMALE TEACHER looks up, momentarily. LEAH offers her a forced smile, waiting until her head once more falls back to her work.

ADAM
The last pages are missing. You don’t even find out what happens.
LEAH
It rains alot.

CASEY
And then what?

LEAH
They all drown and die.

EXT. PLAYGROUND. SCHOOL. BRADFORD. DAY.

The noise and bustle of a busy playground at break. LEAH and CASEY sit together on the steps, flicking through a magazine.

Across the yard, ADAM loiters, leant up against a gate watching MALIK, knocking a ball about with his gang of MATES.

LEAH determinedly ignores YASMIN and her posse of GIRLS giggling and whispering together a few yards away until-

He’s gay.

YASMIN
No he’s not.

LEAH
It said it in Heat.

YASMIN idly hums Kylie, deliberately ignoring her, marking out a dance room, joined by her posse of GIRLS as they quietly shadow one another, in what is clearly a much rehearsed routine.

CASEY
Our Aunty Maureen’s lesbian.

LEAH and CASEY watch YASMIN lost in repeated dance motif, silently impressed.

YASMIN
That’s a sin against Allah.

LEAH
And our dog’s gay. He got done too young.

CASEY idly picks up to YASMIN’s beat, shadowing her dance moves, but adding a more provocative twist as one by one YASMIN and her line of little GIRLS all, fall into CASEY’s routine a la Kylie.

From across the yard-

MALIK
(in Punjabi)
Yasmin-

MALIK goes to shake YASMIN out of her dance move.

MALIK (cont’d)
(in Punjabi)
What you doing?
YASMIN
(in Punjabi)
Get off.

MALIK grabs YASMIN by the arm, pushing CASEY out of the way.

LEAH
Get lost you chocolate frog.

MALIK turns, shoves CASEY hard against the wall. Seeing this, LEAH goes on the attack, shoving MALIK from behind, in a dirty scrap, ADAM falling in, kicking MALIK close behind-

From across the yard-

REHAN
Break it up...Break it up.

REHAN wades in, shoving ADAM aside and pulling LEAH and MALIK apart by the scruffs of their necks.

REHAN (cont’d)
(to MALIK)
You’re hitting a girl, man?

REHAN looks to MALIK, suddenly seeing his bloody nose, face mashed. LEAH smiles smugly, clearly the victor in the fight, pushing ADAM away as he tries to eye the cut to her lip.

INT. CORRIDOR. OUTSIDE MARIANNE’S OFFICE. SCHOOL. DAY.

LEAH, sitting on a chair, next to REHAN. The scuff and scrape of her shoes, as she swings her legs back and forth grazing the lino floor.

LEAH eyes, his long beard.

LEAH
Is it itchy?

REHAN
Sometimes-

LEAH clocks a string of beads, half hanging out of his pocket.

REHAN (cont’d)
Tazbih.

REHAN pulls out the set of beads, showing them to her.

REHAN (cont’d)
Prayer beads.
(holding them up)
Ninety nine beads plus this one. Each bead is for a different name for Allah, Peace be unto Him.

LEAH
Ninety nine names?
(beat)
Was he fiddling his benefit too?

REHAN laughs-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
REHAN
(touching beads)
The Wise, the Compassionate, the Merciful, the Good, the Eternal.

LEAH
That’s five.

REHAN smiles, looking up to see MARIANNE waiting-

EXT. STREET. BRADFORD. DAY.

DEBBIE, laden down with coats, and schoolbags, tailed by LEAH, ADAM and CASEY, all three clearly in the dog house.

ADAM
It wasn’t our fault.

LEAH
He shoved me first.

DEBBIE
I leave you on your first day and-

LEAH
They give you curry with your fishfingers. Casey-

CASEY
..I couldn’t eat it.

DEBBIE
You can have sandwiches.

CASEY
I want Burger King.

DEBBIE stops in her tracks, pulling them all up sharp.

LEAH
I want to go back to Ridgemont.

DEBBIE
Well you can’t. This is it. They’re not rehousing us.

LEAH
You called the council?

DEBBIE
Yeah. This is all we get.

LEAH turns and walks on ahead.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
(calling after)
You like curry sauce...When you have your chips...You like curry sauce with your chips.

DEBBIE ushers ADAM and CASEY ahead of her-

A group of skull capped YOUTHS throw LEAH a look as they pass.

INT. SITTING ROOM/KITCHEN. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY

The blur of TV; Monsters Inc or the like on the screen.

LEAH doing her homework—

LEAH
Nanna Margaret went to church.

DEBBIE passing through with a box piled with old letters, cuddly toys, photos, a sense she is trying to keep herself busy—

DEBBIE
Cause she copped off once with the priest. She’d be turning in her grave if she could see us here.

LEAH
She was cremated.

LEAH fishes out a tiny monkey holding a squashy heart from the box, idly fiddling with it. The electronic jingle as the monkey repeatedly punches the air, heart in hand.

LEAH (cont'd)
Classy.

DEBBIE snatches it back, hurling it into the box—

DEBBIE’s phone rings. DEBBIE tenses, STEVIE’s name flashing up—

The distant sound of an ice cream van. CASEY and ADAM racing out—

The phone rings on—

Change your number.

DEBBIE
You got to pay.

It rings some more. LEAH suddenly grabs it, answers it—

LEAH (into phone)
Fuck off.

LEAH hangs up, slamming it back to DEBBIE.

DEBBIE
He is their dad—

LEAH
Pity you can’t remember who mine is

LEAH, clocking a set of rosary beads, spilling out of the box. LEAH reaching a hand out, as DEBBIE clears them back into the box.

DEBBIE
You’re Nana’s.
LEAH makes to go-

DEBBIE (cont'd)

Leah-

DEBBIE throws her the beads, LEAH takes them, heading upstairs.

On DEBBIE on her own, struggling. She goes into the kitchen, systematically opening the kitchen cabinet, then the fridge, empty on every score. DEBBIE hesitates, flicks on the kettle, takes a cup, a tea bag, wants to make a cup of tea but-

Scooping up her purse, DEBBIE heads out-

INT. DEBBIE’S BEDROOM. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY.

The window open, the sounds of summer outside; birds, the distant rumble of cars and yet beyond a kind of silence-

LEAH looks out at the winding trails of MEN on route to the mosque.

CASEY muscles in next to LEAH, finishing off an ice cream cone, craning to see the disappearing figure of DEBBIE in mini skirt and wedged flip flops, at odds with the long chadors and burkahs of the other WOMEN.

On LEAH, her gaze falling beyond to DEBBIE just disappearing up the road, quiet concern flickering in her eyes, rosary beads absently turning in her hand.

LEAH

She’s gonna get pissed. She’s got her purse.

CASEY

Yeah but Adam nicked her last fiver.

CASEY smirks. LEAH smirks. LEAH looking down at the rosary beads, shoving them in her pocket.

27

INT. OFF LICENCE. STREET. BRADFORD. DAY

DEBBIE scooping up a couple of alcopops and a packet of crisps. The ASIAN SHOP KEEPER eyes her suspiciously. Going to pay for them, DEBBIE sees her purse is empty-

DEBBIE, heart inwardly sinking, searches her pockets, nothing.

DEBBIE staring helplessly at the endless bottles of booze, sliding the alcopops and crisps back.

INT. BEDROOM. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY.

LEAH lying on ADAM’s bunkbed, feet flat to the ceiling, CASEY and ADAM close by, playing top trumps or the like.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
A door slam. LEAH, ADAM and CASEY listen. The sound of something being dropped. LEAH’s palpable disappointment, going downstairs, followed by ADAM and CASEY—

INT. STAIRWELL/KITCHEN. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY.

DEBBIE rooting through a stair cupboard, pulling out a couple of old pots of paint. LEAH’s coming down the stairs, clocking the rising agitation, the sense that DEBBIE is trying to stave off the feelings of some kind of craving.

LEAH
What you doing?

Turning up the radio, DEBBIE reaches for her fish slice, chucking a bar of chocolate at ADAM and a second and third to LEAH and CASEY.

CASEY
But Adam nicked your money.

DEBBIE
Lucky for you I’m your nanna’s daughter.

DEBBIE looks up, sees LEAH watching her, sensing her jitters. DEBBIE hands ADAM the fish slice,

DEBBIE (cont’d)
(to ADAM)
You. This wall.

DEBBIE drags a chair across the kitchen, standing on it trying to prise off a piece of ceiling tile.

Suddenly polystyrene and plaster rain down on DEBBIE’s head.

DEBBIE momentary shock, dissolving into laughter as LEAH and CASEY unable to resist any longer, join in, pulling at wallpaper and broken ceiling tiles.

ADAM
(aka Donkey/ Shrek)
I’m a donkey on the edge.

A snowstorm of paper, and laughter as DEBBIE turns the radio up. All four of them ripping at wallpaper, tearing down ceiling tiles and great strips off the wall. LEAH throws her a half smile, biting into her chocolate, reaching up and pulling at another corner of wallpaper, enjoying tearing it down, dancing to the music, letting rip, a certain joyous madness to the four.

A huge swirling paper fight, liberating, spontaneous until—

A vibrating hum. All stop, DEBBIE’s phone somewhere ringing. DEBBIE determinedly trying to ignore it, aware of the kids waiting in expectation until—

DEBBIE reaches a hand into a box retrieving the phone.

DEBBIE
Fuck off..Fuck off..
(with rising joy)
And fuck off again—

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
LEAH smiles, hair covered in plaster and paper dust, like an electrified polar bear, turning to see through the open kitchen door-

STEVIE standing in the yard, mobile phone pressed to his ear.

STEVIE
( into phone)
But I’ve only just parked the car.

DEBBIE follows LEAH’s gaze, freezing on seeing STEVIE standing in the yard, mobile phone pressed to his ear-

DEBBIE
Fuck..Oh my God...

Running for the door, DEBBIE slams it shut in STEVIE’s face.

Upstairs..Upstairs..Upstairs..

DEBBIE scrabbling to get CASEY, ADAM and LEAH upstairs until-

The humming vibrate of her mobile phone goading, DEBBIE hovering, unsure of her next move, physically shaking-

LEAH peers through the kitchen window, sees STEVIE nosing about the back yard, patting the dog, licking his fingers-

STEVIE looks up, smiles and waves.

The rattle of the door, LEAH watches the latch being tampered with, looking to DEBBIE until-

DEBBIE (cont'd)
Get upstairs..Leah-

The door gently lifts off the latch. STEVIE pushes it open to see-

DEBBIE pushes the kids behind her, determinedly trying to stay resolute, holding the fish slice towards STEVIE, forcing him back in the yard.

STEVIE
What you going to do? Batter me.

DEBBIE pushing him back into the yard.

EXT. YARD. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY

STEVIE arms up in surrender, DEBBIE forcing him stumbling back into the yard, LEAH, CASEY and ADAM close behind-

DEBBIE
Mum told you.

STEVIE
Silly bitch didn’t have to.

DEBBIE turns, sees ADAM, looking sheepish behind CASEY and LEAH, standing in the kitchen doorway.
ADAM
(aka Pinocchio)
I’m not a puppet. I’m a real boy

STEVIE
Alright son?

ABDULLAH, just visible coming up the path-

ABDULLAH
OK?

DEBBIE
Fuck off.

ABDULLAH hesitates, heads inside the house.

STEVIE holds up a brown envelope, her benefit cheque. DEBBIE hesitates, nervous as STEVIE holds it out to her-

STEVIE
Take it. It’s yours.

LEAH watches as STEVIE slides it on the front step, eyeing her. DEBBIE doesn’t dare move, too terrified.

DEBBIE
Thanks.

STEVIE
I’m not gonna let you starve.
(eyeing LEAH)
Leah?
(ignored)
Bit far out, this?
(patting the dog)
He’s not even been in quarantine.

LEAH watching unsettled as STEVIE pulls off his belt. Slipping it around the dog’s neck, STEVIE pulls it tight around his neck

DEBBIE
(growing agitation)
I’m not coming back.

STEVIE suddenly slams DEBBIE hard against the wall.

STEVIE
You took the fucking loo seat.

LEAH goes to move but DEBBIE holds her back with her look-

DEBBIE
How many times have we come back and found no food, no telly? You sold Adam’s football kit.

STEVIE slams her harder, an ugly angry scuffle, DEBBIE sent flying as STEVIE knocks her in the chin with a flaying arm.

LEAH
(shouting)
Suddenly LEAH is wading in, clawing at STEVIE trying to pull him off-

    DEBBIE
    Leah...No..

    ADAM
    Dad-

ABDULLAH pushes his way through, breaking up the fight, pulling LEAH off and grabbing STEVIE-

    ADAM (cont’d)
    (breaking down)
    Please dad-

ABDULLAH easing his grip on STEVIE-

    ABDULLAH
    Get home, mate.

STEVIE pushes him off, clocking ADAM and CASEY held back by LEAH, DEBBIE hurt and struggling to pull herself up.

    STEVIE
    (with disgust)
    Mate-

STEVIE half laughing, resorts to grabbing the dog and slowly leading him away.

    STEVIE (cont’d)
    (incredulous/laughing)
    Mate? Who are you to call me..I’m not your mate..
    (to ADAM/ CASEY)
    I’ll see you two, soon.

STEVIE passing LEAH, looks at her.

    STEVIE (cont’d)
    (to LEAH)
    And you.

On LEAH, watching STEVIE limp across the street, ADAM and CASEY chasing after him-

ABDULLAH looking to DEBBIE-

    ABDULLAH
    You alright-

But DEBBIE already gone, chasing after STEVIE-

    DEBBIE
    (calling after)
    He’s got fucking worms. And you’re not having his pills.

Fumbling with her ring, DEBBIE struggles to get it off, sucking on her finger, doing all she can to loosen it.

    CASEY
    (calling after dog)
    Becks-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
LEAH watches as STEVIE pulls away in his car, the dog, nose pressed to the glass, peering out of the back window.

    CASEY (cont’d)
    He’s forgotten his dog bowl.

DEBBIE shouting and screaming after STEVIE, tossing her ring across the yard.

ABDULLAH shakes his head wearily, heading back into his own yard. ABDULLAH’S MOTHER hovers in the door, chewing on a bag of pistachios-

    ABDULLAH
    (in Punjabi)
    Ma...I’ve told you..Stop dropping all your shells..everywhere..

The NEIGHBOUR in full chador, standing on her back step, LEAH seeing this. The NEIGHBOUR ducks back inside.

INT. SITTING ROOM. HOUSE. BRADFORD. NIGHT.

DEBBIE bruised and battered sitting on the edge of the sofa. LEAH scooping up the cheque in passing. LEAH hesitates, holding it up to the light, a thick red line drawn through it clearly cancelling it.

    LEAH
    It’s been cancelled.

    DEBBIE
    What you talking about?

    LEAH
    (pointing to cheque)
    See that red line-

DEBBIE takes it, looking at it-

    (pointing to cheque)
    Cancelled. C-a-n-

DEBBIE sinks back on the sofa with quiet devastation-

    DEBBIE Bastard.

EXT. YARD. HOUSE. BRADFORD. NIGHT.

Later. LEAH dumping bags of ripped wallpaper in the bin-

Through the fence, LEAH clocks ABDULLAH scooping something up off the yard floor-

    LEAH
    She’s going to divorce him when she’s got some money.

ABDULLAH holds out the retrieved ring to LEAH-
ABDULLAH
In Islam it's very simple. The man says to his wife; I divorce you. I divorce you. I divorce you.

ABDULLAH sinking down on the step outside his house. YASMIN playing with FRIENDS in the alleyway.

(with a smile)
Now what lawyer can do it that cheap or quick, huh?

ABDULLAH looks up, DEBBIE just passing the kitchen door, half listening.

LEAH (considers)
My mum's got one who can fiddle your electric if you like.

ABDULLAH laughs, heading off to ISAH- Midnight prayers.

ABDULLAH
(calling after)
You should be in bed, Laylah.

LEAH
It's Leah.

ABDULLAH already gone, shouting back at YASMIN to get into the house, ushering YASMIN back in.

ABDULLAH
(to YASMIN/in Punjabi)
In now.

The distant murmur of praying. LEAH listens to the quiet city. Through the open kitchen door the sound of running water, LEAH looks through the fence-

ABDULLAH's MOTHER [60's] at the sink, washing her face with a wet flannel, cleaning her ears, touching the corners of her eyes and tips of ears with her fingers, making wudu.

On LEAH watching with absent curiosity, looking back to-

DEBBIE, dabbing her face at the sink, skin already bruising and puffy around her lip and eye-

DEBBIE seeing LEAH watching her, gaze wavering, looking away with growing despair.

window of the job centre opposite. DEBBIE face bruised and battered, LEAH, ADAM and CASEY stand peering in.
CASEY
When I grow up I’m gonna be a kennel maid. You could be a kennel maid.

DEBBIE
I don’t like dogs.

ADAM
You like Becks.

DEBBIE
Who says?

LEAH leading the way, DEBBIE and CASEY close behind. ADAM caught in eternal turn, going around and around the revolving doors, never quite making it in.

DEBBIE
Kind of- No.

BENEFIT OFFICER
You haven’t worked in-

DEBBIE
Five years.

BENEFIT OFFICER
(checking paperwork)
You’ve been living on disability benefit?

DEBBIE
Yeah.

The BENEFIT OFFICER eyes her up and down, clearly in search of some kind of disability, looking suspiciously at the bruises on DEBBIE’s face-

DEBBIE (cont’d)
Metal plate in my head.

The BENEFIT OFFICER wearily slides a form across to DEBBIE-

BENEFIT OFFICER
If you’d like to fill in this form.

DEBBIE nods, looking to LEAH who hovers close by-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
BENEFIT OFFICER (cont’d)
Then take it to that desk.

DEBBIE joins the queue, perching the form on a ledge, as she tries to write her name, painfully aware she is being watched, the letters betraying that DEBBIE cannot write.

ADAM and CASEY playing chase on the other side of the room. LEAH slides next to her, gently reaching out, pulling the form across.

LEAH
(close to/reading)
Address.

DEBBIE rummages in her bag, handing LEAH a letter with their new address on. LEAH takes the pen, and starts to fill in the form, copying from the letter.

LEAH (cont’d)
Dependants?

DEBBIE
I think that’s you lot.

LEAH nods, slowly filling in DEBBIE’s form for her in childish scrawl. DEBBIE reaches in her bag, going to light up a fag shaking in her hands. A SECURITY GUARD standing near the door, gestures for her to stop.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
(sharp)
Adam-

DEBBIE

Don’t you look a poppit.

CASEY just coming out of the toilet in a peach coloured meringue like bridesmaid dress.

CASEY
Adam’s taking all the chips.

CASEY reaches over for a bottle of ketchup, squirting them over the plate.

ADAM
She’s drowning them in ketchup.

SONYA pulls the plate of chips away, already reaching for a second dress in her bag for LEAH.

SONYA
Watch the dress...Watch the dress.

SONYA, seeing LEAH’s look as she holds out the dress to LEAH-

I promised Elaine.
(seeing DEBBIE’s look)
She is your cousin.

DEBBIE
Her wedding’s not for-

SONYA
Six weeks.
(to LEAH)
Hey, Helen Keller, try it on.

LEAH holds up the peach frothy dress, in quiet disgust-

LEAH
It’s the colour of puke.

LEAH slides the dress back to SONYA. SONYA eyes DEBBIE’s battered face.

SONYA
How did he look?

DEBBIE
quietly stung, looking away.

DEBBIE
Like shit.

SONYA
Hasn’t got you to look after him.
He’ll struggle to make his own tea.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
ADAM
I want a burger.

DEBBIE
You can’t have a burger.

DEBBIE drawing heavily on a cigarette, still clearly shaken, concerning SONYA. SONYA roots in her bag, sliding a large pack of scratchcards, wrapped in elastic band across the table.

SONYA
There’s nearly a hundred there. A quid a pop-

DEBBIE slides them back, but SONYA is insistent, pushing them into her hands.

SONYA (cont’d) (CONT’D)
You’re Auntie Maureen’s already won two bread knives and a DVD player. Skanky bitch.

ADAM Wicked.

ADAM reaches out for one, DEBBIE slaps him away, sliding them into her handbag.

SONYA
You’re on top table.

DEBBIE
Mum, I just-

SONYA
Elaine’s learnt Endless Love. (close to) Both parts.

Hello darlings.

ADAM and CASEY’s delight as they greet the dog, bouncing up on front paws to greet them.

SONYA
You’re alright I got them tea.

ADAM
Dad—

REHAN VO
The prophet, peace be unto him, that night was very tired from the long walk he had had that day so he slept very soundly.

REHAN’s eyes graze over LEAH listening, intently—

REHAN
Suddenly a voice called him so insistently that he woke up and there before him stood—

A LITTLE BOY hops from foot to foot, desperate to answer—

LITTLE BOY Gabriel.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
REHAN
...in full splendour, with the most marvellous beast, whose name was-

REHAN
And the good if there is some.

LEAH
And that God’ll read the list and work out if you’re going to go to hell?

REHAN
I think you’ll be OK.

LEAH
What if its someone who keeps doing bad stuff and they don’t even know they’re doing it?

REHAN
What kind of bad stuff?

LEAH
Like pretending something’s going to be different and then its not. Like saying everything’s going to be fine. That they won’t drink again. Or like when Casey burnt her arm, not being pissed off and shouting. Like promising it’s going to change even and then it never does. Do you think if you pray alot, do you think Allah would cross a few out? Do you think if you did that-

LEAH looks up, MARIANNE waiting by the common room door, clocking REHAN.

REHAN
If he is The Good, The Merciful, The Compassionate Allah will forgive-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
YASMIN
(hushed aside)
You got any of those scratch cards.

LEAH looks at her bemused. ABDULLAH’s MOTHER mimes scratching a card, behind YASMIN. SONYA considers, eyeing her suspiciously-

SONYA
Tell her they’re two quid each.

LEAH
(incredulous)
Nanna-

SONYA
One quid fifty if she buys five of them.

SONYA nods to ABDULLAH’s MOTHER, beckoning her to come over-

SONYA (cont’d)
She’ll have to take her shoes off.

Several of the FAMILY MEMBERS including preparing to head off to the mosque, including ABDULLAH. ABDULLAH’s MOTHER’s innocent smile, as ABDULLAH passes-

ABDULLAH
(nodding to LEAH)
Alright, Gori girl.

ABDULLAH’s MOTHER waiting until, ABDULLAH has gone. ABDULLAH’s MOTHER hurrying around, leaving LEAH and YASMIN alone in the yard.

LEAH
You’ve got new trainers.

YASMIN looks down at her new trainers. Taps them. A ripple of lights, making them both smile.

INT. KITCHEN. HOUSE. BRADFORD. EVENING

DEBBIE hesitates, nods clocking LEAH, heading up YASMIN’s path, into her house.

DEBBIE
Leah-

LEAH already gone, DEBBIE’s gaze falling back on CASEY playing mummies and daddies with MOHAMMAD and a couple of little ASIAN KIDS, in the alleyway.

DEBBIE peers up, looking out for LEAH, seeing the lights go on in YASMIN’s bedroom.

INT. YASMIN’S BEDROOM. HOUSE. BRADFORD. EVENING

LEAH peering into YASMIN’s bedroom following YASMIN in. A brightly coloured Aladdin duvet, wrestles with swathes of Indian bedspread. Photos of pop stars collide with family photos, some incense sticks burnt near the bed. A prayer mat rolled in the corner of the room. A tiny compass resting on the side. LEAH’s hands graze over all of these.

LEAH sinks onto the bed, peering across at several scarves hanging up. LEAH leans forward, pulling one off the rack. Eyeing it, LEAH tries wrapping it around her head, peering at herself in the mirror, absorbed in trying to tie it-

YASMIN
You’re doing it wrong.

YASMIN kneels down next to her.

YASMIN (cont’d)
(helping her)
You’ve got to pull it tight.

YASMIN pulls the scarf, folding it, smiling at LEAH, both girls mildly self conscious until-

The murmur of voices. Stray laughter passing YASMIN’s room.

Like a shot, LEAH takes it off, handing it back to YASMIN. YASMIN gently pushes the scarf back into LEAH’s hands.

YASMIN
You can take it home.

LEAH hesitates, smiles, hurriedly stuffing it in her pocket. LEAH eyes the pile of books, resting on top of an exercise book. LEAH fingers the pages, eyes falling on the arabic writing-

LEAH
You did this at school?

YASMIN

You’ve won a tenner. The offi near yours’ll cash it over the counter.

ABDULLAH’S MOTHER squeezes CASEY’s cheek in passing-ABDULLAH’S MOTHER
(as passes/in Punjabi)
Buy the kids some sweeties.

DEBBIE with bemused gratitude, watching ABDULLAH’s MOTHER heading back to her house. DEBBIE nods her hello to ABDULLAH, already being overtaken by his MOTHER.

SONYA
Debbie, wipe down that chair.
(seeing LEAH’s look)
Oh pull that pickle out your arse, Leah.

LEAH picks up her excercise books, finishing up the last of her homework.

LEAH
They don’t gamble. She can’t keep the money.

DEBBIE sinks down next to LEAH, eyeing LEAH’s open page-

DEBBIE
What else don’t they do?

LEAH
Everything. Drink.

DEBBIE hesitates, knocking back the drink in her hand-

DEBBIE
It’s diet coke-

LEAH
Smoke.

DEBBIE hesitates, declining the spliff.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
What does it say?
LEAH hesitates, tracing a finger over the letters, phonetically showing her-

LEAH
‘To Whom Should I show Kindness’
‘Muhammad asked.’ Your mother, next your mother, next your mother.

DEBBIE
That’s homework?

LEAH nods. DEBBIE considers-

DEBBIE (cont’d)
And I hope Muhammad listened.

Where d’you go?

ADAM
(aka Mr Burns)
Can it be that you are talking to me merely a member of your bloodline and family?

LEAH holds his look-

LEAH
Where d’you go?

ADAM closes the door, ignoring her question.
The electronic fight sounds of the distant X box.

EXT. PLAYGROUND SCHOOL. BRADFORD. DAY

DEBBIE, tailing REHAN, on route back from dropping ADAM and CASEY-

DEBBIE
Did you send her to that class?

REHAN, aware of the swell of CHILDREN and PARENTS arriving close by.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
She’s got a new fucking name. What’s wrong with the name I gave her?

REHAN
I don’t know..No one made her go.

DEBBIE
She’s 11 years old. She does what her mates do. Silly dance, funny walk, load of fucking mumbo jumbo. She doesn’t know what she’s getting herself into.

REHAN
Have you talked to her?

DEBBIE
I’m her fucking mother. I talk to her all the time. What does that mean?

REHAN
Nothing.

DEBBIE
No..Say it..Say it..

REHAN
I don’t know what’s gone on.

DEBBIE
Fuck you.
REHAN
But she’s not at home at the moment.

DEBBIE
Fuck you.

REHAN
If she was my daughter...I see a bright kid who needs-

DEBBIE
Fuck you...

REHAN
Fine..Fine.

DEBBIE
You know why there’s no fucking white kids in this school? You don’t fucking want them.

REHAN
I want any kid who wants to learn. Any kid who wants something more than she’s got. That’s Leah.

REHAN turning to go, leaving DEBBIE. A lone white figure, suddenly overwhelmed in a sea of brown.

INT. SWEETSHOP/CAFE. STREET. BRADFORD. DAY.

LEAH wiping tables, coming over to the counter where YASMIN is playing slaphands, sitting on the counter.

ABDULLAH MOTHER
(in Punjabi)
Off my counter-

ABDULLAH rolls large cans of vegetable oil and coconut milk from the shop to the yard, through wide open doors-

LEAH
All done and I’ve filled up the salt bottles.

ABDULLAH nodding to ABDULLAH’s MOTHER, as she opens the till, taking out a fiver-

ABDULLAH MOTHER
(handing money to LEAH)
Good girl.

The bell on the door goes. LEAH looks around to see STEVIE, passing, clocking her as he loiters, the dog in tow.

STEVIE
You’re mum’s in the offi-

LEAH nods, hesitating-

LEAH
They do coke.
STEVIE shrugs, STEVIE coming over to join her at the counter. ABDULLAH’s MOTHER nodding to YASMIN to come and help her in the kitchen.

LEAH (cont’d)
You’re going grey.

STEVIE
Cheers.

(beat)
Are you coming home?

LEAH
Are you moving out?

STEVIE
Your mother’s missing you.

(stopping her)
I’ve been a good dad to you.

LEAH snorts, rolling her eyes-

LEAH
Then be a good dad and fuck off.

STEVIE
(pointing upwards)
I don’t think he’d like you saying that.

LEAH
Who’s there when she’s crying cause you haven’t come home for a week? Who’s there when you’ve gone and nicked everything? Who dad?

(beat)
And I’m the kid.

STEVIE makes to go.

LEAH (cont’d)
I know what you’re doing with Adam.

STEVIE
Don’t get clever with me.

LEAH
Then fuck off, leave us all alone and take your shitty gear with you.

STEVIE
Or what?

LEAH hesitates-

LEAH
Ashhadu al-la ilaha illa-Llahu, ashhadu anna Muhammadan-rasul Allah.

The sting of PEOPLE listening. STEVIE looks at her, his humiliation growing, as LEAH determindely sings the adhan, her voice rising across the cafe.

LEAH (cont’d)
Ashhadu al-la ilaha illa-Llah, wa

ABDULLAH’s MOTHER and OTHERS look up in quiet amazement, LEAH’s singing almost taunting, goading a silent STEVIE.

EXT. YARD. SWEETSHOP. BRADFORD. DAY.

ABDULLAH, wiping off the sweat as he rolls the last barrel, looking up on hearing-

LEAH OOV
Ashhadu al-la ilaha illa-Llahu,

A stunned silence STEVIE gets up, slides money across the counter turning to see DEBBIE standing in the doorway, hearing it all.

STEVIE exits, DEBBIE slowly following him out. LEAH watching them go-

ABDULLAH
You’ll be making Hajj next.

ABDULLAH starts clapping, a smile spreading across the faces of ABDULLAH’s MOTHER, YASMIN, ABDULLAH and OTHER MUSLIM CUSTOMERS, quietly stunned yet oddly delighted by the rendition, crowding around to congratulate LEAH-

LEAH looking back, DEBBIE watching LEAH, clearly hurt. DEBBIE turning and following STEVIE up the road.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
ABDULLAH
You starving?

LEAH
I had a piece of pizza at lunchtime.

ABDULLAH half smiles-

ABDULLAH
Your mother is very unhappy.

LEAH
(sharp)
She’s a stupid bitch.

ABDULLAH
Say not unto them a contemptuous word nor repel but address them with respectful words.

LEAH
I hate her.

ABDULLAH
Paradise is at the feet of the mother-

LEAH
She’s-

ABDULLAH
I don’t care-

ABDULLAH catches her look-

ABDULLAH
No. You only get one of those.

EXT. STREET. BRADFORD. DAY.

EXT. OUTSIDE MOSQUE. BRADFORD. DAY.

The flick flack of the door-

LEAH and DEBBIE stand hesitant, catching brief glimpses as MEN and WOMEN entering.
LEAH
The women pray upstairs.

DEBBIE resigned, makes to go inside. LEAH goes to stop her, handing her a scarf. DEBBIE looks at it non plussed, LEAH goes to put it on her, tying it for her despite DEBBIE’s obvious reluctance-

DEBBIE
I’m not taking off my shoes. I’ve got holes in my socks.

INT. ENTRANCE. MOSQUE. BRADFORD. DAY.
The call for prayer, rising through the mosque-
LEAH tentatively pushing the door open, waiting for-

ABDULLAH’s MOTHER, sits on a chair, puffing and panting trying to ease off her sandals.

DEBBIE clocks LEAH helping her, unbuckling the old woman’s shoes.

LEAH looks up, smiles, nods for her to follow, ABDULLAH’s MOTHER upstairs.

INT. WASHING ROOM. MOSQUE. BRADFORD. DAY.
The call for prayer, closer now-
The ripple of laughter, several WOMEN in hushed conversation, washing faces, hands, under their arms, all gathered around long low sinks as they make Wudu.

LEAH
(showing DEBBIE)
You wash three times.

LEAH watching the other women, washes her arms, rinsing out her mouth, then her nostrils.

DEBBIE
That’s disgusting.

DEBBIE’s quiet horror, making LEAH laugh, as she hands DEBBIE the water scoop.

LEAH
Go on-

DEBBIE
I had a bath this morning.

LEAH unwavering as DEBBIE hesitantly washes-

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
LEAH
Then your finger, and then your thumb-

DEBBIE copies LEAH, washing in and around her ears until-

DEBBIE
(hushed)
What you doing?

LEAH raises her face to the sky, pointing one index finger upwards. DEBBIE sees several other WOMEN doing the same, DEBBIE concedes following suit.

INT. PRAYER HALL. MOSQUE. BRADFORD.DAY.

The call for prayer now in the room-

DEBBIE following LEAH into the WOMEN’s gallery. Rows of MEN just visible through the balustrades down below-

Ornate carvings and calligraphy curved along the walls.

DEBBIE sinks down next to LEAH, LEAH’s shoulder pressed close to DEBBIE’s. ABDULLAH’s MOTHER lands next to DEBBIE, pressing her shoulder next to DEBBIE’s.

The murmur of prayer-

DEBBIE watches LEAH, lost in salat.

Down below, the READER is reciting the Qur’an, the holy book resting on a stand in front of him. Occasionally he leans forward and kisses the cover of the book.

LEAH
(following her gaze)
The Qur’an was given to the Prophet Muhammad Peace be upon Him over 23 years.
(pointing upwards)
They write it even on the wall.

DEBBIE takes in the beautiful calligraphy until-

ABDULLAH’s MOTHER full weight pressed against DEBBIE, making LEAH laugh-

Suddenly DEBBIE is overwhelmed, by the noise, the smells, the heat of the room.

LEAH looks up from praying to see-

DEBBIE slipping out of the back.

DEBBIE
I just don’t get it. I don’t get what you get from it.

LEAH
It’s half an hour at the most-

DEBBIE
I’m English.

LEAH
So am I.

DEBBIE
It’s not for me.

DEBBIE turns, makes to head up the road-

LEAH
It smells nice. It’s quiet. I pray and... everything’s not all bad or fucked up. Like somewhere there’s this place that... I dunno... I feel safe.

DEBBIE
You’re eleven.

LEAH
You’re nearly thirty and you’ve never felt like that.

DEBBIE
Stevie wants us to move back to the flat.
(avoiding gaze)
I can’t do it. I’ve not been on my own since-

LEAH
You never try.
(beat)
Or are you going to let him run Adam like he did me?

On DEBBIE, slapped-

DEBBIE
(destroyed)
He promised.

LEAH, seeing that DEBBIE knows-

LEAH
(quiet incredulity)
God, you are.

LEAH in quiet despairing disgust, turning and heading back to the mosque, leaving DEBBIE behind.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
Now after his long journey, the prophet and the Gabriel, came down by way of the Ladder of light—Down they went, Gabriel and our prophet by way of the Ladder of light and when they got down there they found Burraq whom they unfastened—

Through in the sitting room, several boxes now packed up, ready to go—

INT. DEBBIE’S BEDROOM. HOUSE. BRADFORD. EVENING.

LEAH VO
But what of the wine and milk? Yes indeed Gabriel presented to our messenger, two vessels one containing milk and one containing wine.

DEBBIE looking out into the alleyway, seeing STEVIE slipping something to ADAM, before ADAM disappears up the road on his bike.

LEAH VO (cont’d)
The prophet took the vessel of milk and drank from it.

The sound of music, celebrations underway next door—

The thump of music through the walls—

LEAH VO
You have rightly chosen, for if you had drunk from the other, your people would surely have gone astray—

Suddenly DEBBIE takes her glass, hurling it against the wall. The smash and spill of glass and wine, inches from STEVIE’s head. SONYA quickly reaches for her glass, cupping it, worried it is next in line.

INT. KITCHEN. FATIMA’S HOUSE. BRADFORD. EVENING

Lively music. ABDULLAH dancing with YASMIN and LEAH, several other FAMILY MEMBERS clapping, celebrating the Eid—

LEAH VO

Through the walls, the sounds of fighting; ABDULLAH hears it, nodding for someone to turn the music up louder.

FATIMA shifts uncomfortably in her seat—

EXT. YARD. FATIMA’S HOUSE. BRADFORD. NIGHT.

ADAM on the approach on his bike—

Through the glass of the kitchen window—

DEBBIE sitting on the back step, watching ADAM on the approach. STEVIE loiters in the doorway, LEAH looking on—

DEBBIE Pockets.

ADAM hesitates. Frustrated, DEBBIE rifles through ADAM’s pockets, the bike until—

DEBBIE’s despair as she plucks a wadge of notes from inside one of the bike handlebars.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
(to STEVIE)
You promised...You bloody promised..

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
DEBBIE grabbing a broom, slapping him out of the house, until STEVIE grabs the broom off her, yanking it out of her hands, with violent force-

STEVIE
Deb-

DEBBIE
I hate you...I hate you...

On DEBBIE and STEVIE, panting and exhausted, both locked in a battle to the death-

STEVIE
Get off you silly mare..

SONYA rushing in, pulling STEVIE off DEBBIE-

SONYA
Calm down...Calm down.

Exhausted, STEVIE and DEBBIE are torn apart, SONYA wrestling DEBBIE away from him, calming DEBBIE down.

Through the fence, DEBBIE sees LEAH watching it all with CASEY and the other CHILDREN.

SONYA (cont'd)
Come inside love.

DEBBIE heads in.

From inside FATIMA’s house-

A low level scream-

FATIMA going into labour next door. ABDULLAH coming out, clearly unsure what to do, ABDULLAH’s MOTHER going inside to help.

Above the crack of fireworks-

EXT. YARD. FATIMA’S HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAWN.

On LEAH sitting on the back step, still in her nightie, looking out at a beautiful sunrise over Bradford, pencil and exercise book in hand-

Upstairs the sound of a baby crying. LEAH looks up, DEBBIE standing in her yard, in her nightie, listening. A sense she’s barely slept SONYA coming out shoving a smoking cigarette to DEBBIE. DEBBIE looks at the smoking cigarette, with quiet resigned weariness.

A white hire van parked in the alleyway, STEVIE’s MATE just clambering out on route back into the house.
DEBBIE standing in the doorway, taking in her near empty flat, stepping back to let STEVIE’s MATE’s pass, carrying the kitchen table. SONYA is already back inside the kitchen, packing a box with cutlery.

DEBBIE
Mum, why didn’t you send me to school?

SONYA
What?

DEBBIE
Why didn’t you send me to school?

SONYA
You wouldn’t go.

DEBBIE’s eyes absently follow STEVIE’s MATE’s journey to the white hire van, parked in the alleyway.

DEBBIE
Why didn’t you make me? Why didn’t you march me up there every bloody day? Because maybe now I could read. Maybe I would be somewhere. Why don’t you ever want more for me than what you had?

SONYA deflects, eyeing a white hire van, coming up the alleyway, STEVIE’s MATE just stepping out of the driver’s seat, clearly on route to the house-

SONYA
Don’t be daft. Have a bath and we’ll have the last of this lot cleared by the time you get down.

SONYA hesitates, quiet strained concern on her face-

SONYA
Love-

DEBBIE looking out into the yard, ABDULLAH showing off a tiny baby to his NEIGHBOURS, LEAH, YASMIN and MOHAMMAD hovering close by.
DEBBIE
We’re lowlife, Stevie and me, we’re lowlife, we drag our kids down with us-

DEBBIE sinking down onto a packing case-

SONYA
Deb-

DEBBIE
...into all this shit...When they start out so beautiful...I don’t even make them breakfast...We don’t deserve to be parents...I don’t deserve to be...Because all my life I’ve wasted it-

DEBBIE looks up, at STEVIE.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
(with realisation)
...with you.

DEBBIE slides the wedding ring across the floor to him, looking at STEVIE.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
I divorce you. I divorce you. I divorce you.

SONYA
Deb-

STEVIE leans across, taking the wedding ring. He turns to go, looking for Becks, the dog. LEAH standing in the yard, holding on tight to the dog.

STEVIE
He’s got fleas.

The dog, lollops past STEVIE, licking the salt off DEBBIE’s tears.

DEBBIE
(cutting in)
Fuck off, Stevie.

DEBBIE laughing, letting the dog lick her face, STEVIE already gone.

DEBBIE (cont’d)
Mum-

SONYA hesitates, seeing something final in DEBBIE’s look. She reaches for her bag and coat, making to go-

SONYA
I’ll give you a little call later.

DEBBIE nods. SONYA nods, exiting.

SONYA (cont’d)
(absent)
7 lbs 10. That’s what you weighed.

(c) Tiger Aspect Productions 2008
LEAH slides down next to her, holding out a piece of paper—

DEBBIE hesitates, opens it—

DEBBIE looks at LEAH, helpless.

LEAH

(reading)
Always knows which chocolate bars I like.
Sings.
Has my nose.
Laughs at my jokes.
Tells me she loves me in her sleep.
Made Casey and Adam.
Made me.

DEBBIE eyes fill with tears. LEAH looks up to see ADAM in pyjamas, just waking up.

ADAM
My bed’s gone.

CASEY close behind, holding up a tube of toothpaste but no toothbrush—

CASEY
(with delight)
Are we staying?

On DEBBIE and LEAH’s sudden realisation.

Outside the screech of brakes.

EXT. STREET. NEAR HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY.

LEAH running to keep up with DEBBIE tailing the white hire van, STEVIE leaning out victorious—

STEVIE
Who’s got chip paper on their arse now?

On DEBBIE, fury and frustration, melting into incredulous laughter as—

The white hire van with everything DEBBIE owns speeding off up the road.

DEBBIE considers, picking herself, walking away from the house, off down the street.

ABDULLAH’s MOTHER peering over the fence. At a window another face, ABDULLAH just returning from the mosque.

Stung with humiliation, DEBBIE keeps walking—

On LEAH looking on with disappointment as DEBBIE just visible disappearing in the direction of the off licence.

INT. KITCHEN. HOUSE. BRADFORD. DAY.

LEAH sinking down on an old packing case, taking in—
The stripped house. A dusty circle where the kitchen clock once was.

From behind-

    ADAM
    He’s taken my bike.

LEAH searches through cupboards, finding a bowl unwashed in the sink, but the cupboards bare-

    LEAH
    It was pink.

    ADAM
    Black.

    LEAH
    You could see the pink.

    ADAM
    (aka Shrek)
    Thank you thank you Thank you very much. I’m here til Thursday. Try the veal.

LEAH looking up to see DEBBIE, in the doorway, holding up a box of cornflakes and carton of milk-

    DEBBIE
    I got milk.

LEAH nods, gets up, to go-

DEBBIE looking to ADAM, CASEY, momentarily disappointed.

LEAH coming back with four bowls, spoons from next door.

LEAH lays out the bowels on the kitchen top, DEBBIE pours the cornflakes, falling into making breakfast together.

DEBBIE, ADAM, CASEY and LEAH sat up against the wall, crunching on their cornflakes in silence-

The door ajar.

The distant sound of the adhan just audible-

ABDULLAH and FATIMA already shouting next door, muffled through the wall.

The cry of a tiny newborn.

DEBBIE and LEAH listen. The sound of ABDULLAH’s MOTHER singing it to sleep. DEBBIE smiles, LEAH smiles, holding one another’s look, understanding.

The sounds of the world waking.

A stray laugh far off-

A breeze catching the window net.

Birdsong.
