The class
You can find this class and all our other English classes on our Facebook page.

Language quiz
Can you fill the gaps with a body idiom from the box below? Remember to change the form!

Example
She didn’t even tip the waiter! She is so _____!

Answer
She didn’t even tip the waiter! She is so tight-fisted!

| pull (someone’s) leg | (someone’s) heart is in the right place |
| foot the bill | get tongue-tied | learn (something) by heart |

1. You won a million pounds? You must be _____.
2. She doesn't need the script. She has ______ already.
3. He broke the window and I had to ______. It cost me a fortune!
4. I ______ whenever I have to speak in front of loads of people. I get so nervous!
5. He can be quite annoying but _____.

Well done! Now you can check your answers at the bottom of the next page.
Writing practice

Write your own agony aunt letter with some of the body idioms we learnt in today's class. Can you think of any other idioms to include in your letter? Here are a few from today's lesson to help you:

- catch (someone's) eye
- have butterflies in your stomach
- sweep someone off their feet
- tear your hair out

Example

Dear BBC Learning English,

I am tearing my hair out over the amount of homework I have at the moment. I thought my teacher was pulling my leg when she gave us another worksheet yesterday, but she was actually serious!

Answers to exercise on page 1

1. You won a million pounds? You must be pulling my leg.

2. She doesn’t need the script. She has learnt it by heart already.

3. He broke the window and I had to foot the bill. It cost me a fortune!

4. I get tongue-tied whenever I have to speak in front of loads of people. I get so nervous!

5. He can be quite annoying but his heart's in the right place.