Worksheet: Evacuation - Part 1

Imagine you have been evacuated from a large town to a small village. You're staying with a family who have two children. The children are having to share a bedroom so that you can have somewhere to sleep. The school is tiny, and there are now 35 pupils instead of 20 in the classroom.

Write a letter home to say how you are getting on.

Think about:

- are you happy/miserable?
- what/who do you miss? (Try to think what children then would have missed.)
- tell two or three new or exciting things that have happened, or that you've learned to do
- are you worried about your family back home?

1. Use writing paper if you'd prefer
2. When you've written it, give it to a classmate to read
3. How did it make them feel?

You'll find clues to help you on the Children of World War 2 website.
